THE CONSTITUTION

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO. | ATLANTA, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1869. | VOLUME 1--NUMBER 208

EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA::::::::JUNE 9.

PERSONAL.—We were favored with a call this morning from Col. J. H. Christy, the editor of that very flourishing and well-conducted weekly, the Athens Watchman.

Also, from Col. Wm. H. Dabney, of Calhoun, Ga.

THE SUPREME COURT.—We were in the Supreme Court room this morning a few moments. A mandamus case from Chatham, was before the Court, and our old friend, Hon. Julian Hartridge, was making a very handsome argument.

As soon as this case is argued the Court will take up the famous negro case, involving the right of the negro to hold office.

☞ Horace Greeley has another heavy installment of political economy in the Tribune, of the 5th. His theme is "Commerce—Exchange." The philosopher wants us to raise everything we can at home. For instance, instead of having all the tea raised in China, and everybody in this country digging gold and playing merchant and navigator to buy and bring us the tea, thus leaving all the gold in China, he would have tea raised in South Carolina and East Tennessee, where it will grow, and the gold be kept at home to improve the currency. He then gets facetious, and clinches the argument with his humor:

> Now I protest that, in maturing and avowing this conviction, I have been nowise impelled by contempt or hate of the Chinese—of their paganism, their polygamy, their pig-tails, or their reputed fondness for stewed puppies.

Horace, at the conclusion, fires a big gun for commerce, after this fashion:

> This, then, is our position respecting Commerce: That it has a broad, though not a boundless, field of legitimate and benignant activity—that it should be the servant, not the master, of Industry—that it should interchange the productions of diverse zones and climes, following, in its trans-oceanic voyages, lines of longitude oftener than those of latitude, aiding to disseminate useful arts and processes rather than serving to discourage and retard such diffusion by crushing out infantile and crude essays at their establishment in countries to which they have hitherto been strangers. This they may do, and often have done, by bringing to bear disastrously upon the young aspirants the fatal competition of their older and far stronger rivals, located in lands where those arts were long since cradled, and wherein they have attained, through ages of prosperous growth, a ripe and hardy maturity. Such competition is neither just in its essence nor benignant in its effects. It impels the trained and mailed veteran to mortal combat with the green, unarmed stripling who is yet a novice in the art of War.

And he concludes with another effort at facetiousness in an argumentative way:

> "Let every one look out for himself!" brayed the donkey dancing among chickens; which might answer for the donkey, but not so well for the chickens. Industry has its campaigns and its battle-fields, and is not yet beyond the need of entrenchments and fortifications. How these are to be constructed, armed, and manned, I shall endeavor to indicate in the following chapters.

Mr. Greeley is exhibiting undeniable ability in these papers.

STATE CORRESPONDENCE.

ATHENS, June 6, 1869.

THE UNIVERSITY HIGH SCHOOL.

This preparatory department of the University, under the pains-taking management of Mr. Benj. T. Hunter, is in what may be called good condition. Into this department the same overruling characteristics which we have noticed in the University are perceptible, and, in the main, caeteris paribus, what I have remarked of the University is true of the High School. The same methods are pursued, and similar results obtained. It has an attendance now of fifty-eight, who are under the direct care and control of the President. Although the High School has labored under great pecuniary difficulties, yet its friends anticipate now, as soon as the uncertainty which seems to be inseparate from our present form of State government disappears, a better success.

THE LUCY COBB INTITUTE.

The sessions of this Institute correspond with those of the University and High School. There are three instructors in the literary, two in the music, and one in the drawing department.

An improved style of furniture, a more complete apparatus, and large, even, elegant dormitories, are prominent features of this Institute, which invites patronage, if from no other fact than from this, that it does not euphemize itself with the title of "college."

In addition to the small but valuable Library of the Institute, the pupils have the aid of the Principal's private library containing 2,500 volumes.

A vocal and instrumental concert will be given at the close of the present term. The scholastic year ends with December. The highest class will not graduate until a year from next August. Farther details in regard to this excellent institution I shall give as I receive them from Mr. Jacobs. But of all these three institutions, I can say nothing better than to repeat the last paragraph of Mr. Hunter's high school circular:

Their "peculiar advantages as to healthfulness of location, pleasantness of climate, and good society, are well known to the citizens of Georgia. In these respects Athens is certainly not surpassed; nor can any thoughtful parent who reflects on the insensible influences that silently penetrate the processes of education, fail to appreciate such advantages."

May we say that the Newton House still retains its old hospitable reputation.

EARNEST.

Breach of Promise—Spicy Concern—Racy Courting.

A case is now going on in the Chicago Courts that bids fair to become a cause celebre. A Miss Amanda Craig, has sued Elisha Sprague for refusing to marry her after pledge to do so, and estimates the damage done to her sensibilities at the gentle tune of $100,000.

The lover seemed given to letters; The following classic epistle will show his peculiar style of amatory correspondence:

BOSTON MASS Oct 2 1865.
Monday 100 o'c a. m.

my Dear and best Beloved and respected and Honored in my hart to Amanda J Craig my dear you most pardon me for nott written you at Chicago Before I left that Place I left the second day after I wrote you my Love my hart has Acted and I have fealt bad for so doing Butt uncle Elisha choosed me to go with him East to see Doct Warren and I done so I shall leave in a few days for Chicago and then for your place I hoap I will gett a few lines from you at Chicago I cannott run the risk of a Surgacle operation until I have my maters all settled it is a great so says Doc Warren and 3 others Butt I cannott Putt itt off Longer than next spring at the fartherest Move I will write you from Chicago and Lett you know all of the particulars about my doct says Mandy now you have all of my Love and Esteem and respect Leep a good heart in order to Keep up your spearitts I have looked at your minniture at least 12 Dozen times o how I love you and you dont Believe one word off itt o how I want to hear from you I know the way I feel their is a letter for me at Chicago from you I wish I had wings I would fly to your arms and see you. tor that is nearly all the happiness I have is in your company yours as eaver you have had all of my love and sincear regard and I hoap always you will write me so I can gett yours against I arrive at Chicage my love and regard and good wishes to your mother and father and beloved Brother your as eaver. E. C. S.

I am at the Trement House Boston within one square of my Doctor.

We give also another letter, with not so much love in it, but with a few practical observations of an instructive character, about the Chicago people:

Chicago January 1 1866
My dear

This few lines are to inform you that I am now trying to arrange my Business so that I can leave and by no means did I eaver expect to go to Nashville Before seeing you Lett the consequence be what it might I shall at the earliest possable time leave that my Business will allow me to do so money matters is very tight here Particular iff a man is a stranger as I am and the way the people do hear is to take him in as stranger and do for him Skin him and open the Door and turn him out well they have nott got my Boots off yet and I hope they will nott.

E. C. S.

Notwithstanding the swain's literary cultivation, he seems to be rich, having a cool half a million or so, to respond to any of his anti-marital exploits.

We give a small instalment of the young lady's epistolary effusions, to show that the smitten lover did not have it all his own way:

CINCINNATI, December 9, 1865.

My dearest and best loved

My dear love yesterday morning brought me to your anxiously looked for letter of Sunday afternoon last—the messenger of tidings which has caused me pain and disappointment. My heart feels so sad and discouraged at having its fondly cherished hopes of seeing you ere another dreary week had sped by thus cruelly blighted, that I scarcely feel capable of penning you an answering missive this morning.

To this tender lyric of regret she added a small spice of rhyme as follows:

It is the utmost happiness to feel that your heart is entirely mine. My constant prayer is that you may love me, and me only.

Love me, darling, love me, for my wild and wayward heart!
Like Noah's dove in search of rest, will hover where thou art;
Will linger round thee like a spell, till by thy hand caressed
It folds its weary, careworn wings, to nestle on thy breast.

She finally closes up the onset with this sockdolager:

And so you sometimes look at my picture. Thank you, dearest. Your miniature is the greasest treasure I possess. I spend many of my leisure hours in looking at it, and thinking of the original. And now, love, hoping that this may find you well and cheerful, also that your business may be as prosperous as you could desire, I will bid you good night. wishing you pleasant dreams and that I may hear from you again to-morrow.

I am, as ever, your loving and devoted

AMANDA.

The swain seems to have been a prototype of Tittlebat Titmouse, Esq., Warren's great character in "Ten Thousand a year."

A Mr. Kelley gives this agreeable information of this gay Lothario:

When I met Mr. Sprague, in Chicago, in the latter part of 1865, or early in 1866, he said he could "come it" over any girl, and professed to have met with great success in his relations with ladies; he showed me letters from four different ladies, and remarked that he had no intention of marrying; he said he was only "fooling with these girl," and never intended to marry any of them.

The Republican thus describes the dramatis personæ:

Miss Craig, the plaintiff, was dressed as on the previous days of the trial, in black silk, and wore a black veil, which partially screened her fair face from the gaze of the vulgar. She has an interesting and highly intelligent countenance, which, viewed through the folds of the veil, (which, like distance, often lends a species of enchantment,) looks quite youthful. Viewed, however, without the aid of this happy medium, it looks rather melancholy and worn, and a trifle less youthful. Her expression, when in repose, is suggestive of a good deal of private whimpering, but she has a winning smile. She smiled just once yesterday, and the spectators did not see it, for she sat all day with her brown back curls turned to them. But she looked daggers at Sprague on several occasions while he was on the witness stand. At these times the melancholy eyes lighted up with fire for a brief instant, then speedily softened into an expression of "sorrow more than anger."

A portion of the evidence had tended to convey the impression that Mr. Sprague was something of a lady-killer, and there are people who associate with that character ideas of manly beauty. Certainly the defendent was not beautiful as he appeared upon the stand, and people were heard to whisper as they looked, "is that what she is making all the fuss about?" The defendant is not a tall man. He is below the average height. He is not a young man, being a trifle beyond the "midway of this our mortal life." He does not look very active, nor does he seem to be one of those who could "win woman's soul with what he said." Mr. Sprague is in fact an undersized man with iron gray hair, rather thin, a tuft of chin whiskers of a "similar color, a pair of eyes that glitter carbuncles, and a face which one would be inclined to characterize as unpleasantly rubicund and spatty. He was very difficult to handle by the plaintiff's attorneys in their cross-examination, and insisted on giving explanations to every answer.

The defense relied upon proving that the fair litigant had been running somewhat a wanton programme, in which even such mild matters as abortions were mixed.

The case is not yet finished.

SUPREME COURT.

FURNISHED BY N. J. HAMMOND, SUPREME COURT REPORTER, EXPRESSLY FOR THE CONSTITUTION.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1869.

Richard H. Whitely, Solicitor General Southwestern Circuit was admitted to the bar

Argument was concluded in Alexander & Howell vs. Lueth, No. 14, Pataula Circuit.

The Court then took up the Eastern Circuit, (by consent of the bar).

1.—The State of Georgia ex relatione Jas. J. Waring vs. Georgia Medical Society, Mandamus from Chatham. Was opened for the plaintiff in error by Col. Julian Hartridge. Pending his argument the Court adjourned till [illegible] o'clock.

HAVRE, June 9.—Cotton steady.

Georgia Items.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Albany News says Dr. Bledsoe had cotton with sixty forms to the stalk.

THE LaGrange Reporter calls for a Georgia Press Association. The Albany News endorses the suggestion. We ditto.

COL. C. T. GOODE will address the graduating class of the Lumpkin Masonic Female College, the 16th.

THE Americus Courier reports favorably of crops. They are clean. Cotton is improving. Corn is good and advanced as usual. Oats are not extensively planted and not favorable. The freedmen work well and number a third more as many laborers than any time since the surrender. The women are taking to field work again. As the Bureau Agents and Yankee school marms thin out they improve steadily.

A NEWSPAPER warfare is going on between the Americus Courier & Republican and the Early county News. Such polite missiles as "slimy sheet," and "foul-mouthed blackguard," "liar," &c., seem to be a part of the ammunition used.

THE Sandersville Georgian says crops are vigorous. Somebody cut off, clandestinely, Judge Jones' "White Chester" pig's tail.

THE Americus Republican contains the report of a meeting of lawyers in Americus on the 4th. Resolutions were passed requesting the legal fraternity in the State to meet in Convention, in Atlanta, on the 13th of July, to take such action as the interests of the profession demand. Col. W. A. Hawkins, Col. C. T. Goode, and W. B. Guerry, Esq., were chosen delegates. A resolution was passed that a new circuit should be cut off from the Southwestern Circuit, and S. H. Hawkins, Jack Brown, and A. R. Brown, are the committee to look after it.

Col. Hawkins, Col. Goode, Guerry, Carter, and Fort were appointed a Committee to suggest such amendment of the Rules of Court as they thought advisable.

THE measles is in Eatonton.

THE Eatonton Messenger says the prospects for cotton are large, and the cotton can't be beat; that wheat is good; that Jones county had a hail storm to the injury of crops; that a Mr. Geo. Ross had potatoe vines of the early Goodrich variety with genuine potatoes as big as partridge eggs on them, several inches above the ground.

THE Augusta Constitutionalist says a number of mechanics are petitioning for labor to be 10 hours in summer; that proceedings have been begun by citizens to stop the South Charolina Railroad Company from using steam power in the streets.

THE Columbus Times says 600 bales of cotton was sold on the 7th, for about $85,000. Lower grades have risen three to four cents.

AN accident occurred on the Central Railroad. Six cars were thrown off the track. No one seriously hurt. One gentleman was bruised.

The Macon Telegraph says that Mr. Samuel T. Colman, a prominent merchant, had his hip bone fractured on Sunday.

The Southern Recorder announces the death of Mrs. Frances Hunter, eldest daughter of Judge Iverson L. Harris. Also, Mr. John Rogers, an old citizen.

The Rome Commercial says that the people have authorized the subscription of $75,000. to the Memphis Branch Railroad.

GEORGIA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—Two of Joe Brown's celebrated pikes were received as a donation to the Society, on condition that they should be preserved as a memorial of our par excellence secession Governor in the invention and construction of implements of offensive and defensive war. Savannah Republican.

Senator Sprague reports North that the cotton crop cannot exceed one million and a quarter bales.

THE Augusta Chronicle says the cotton crops are more favorable.

The Macon Post-Office.

Judge Cole, of Macon, who has been to Washington to induce President Grant to revoke Turner's appointment to the Macon Post-Office, telegrahs back that he has been successful.

Of all the outrages perpetrated upon our Southern people by Radicalism, none can supass, in practical injury and ignominy this placing ignorant and vicious espionage upon and control over our correspondence.

When it is reflected that not only are all the details of commerce carried on through the Post-Office, but that through it pass the private communion connected with the treasured relationships of human society, to place all at the mercy of an irresponsible, vindictive, impecunious and scampish African, is not only criminally jeopardizing the weightiest interests of our people, but exposing their holiest sentiments to the ordeal of a savage inquisition.

Now, strange as it may seem, we don't believe that General Grant meant anything wrong to us in the horrible iniquity of this proceeding. But we do think that he is in a place that he is as little fitted to occupy as our old cavalry steed was to teach arithmetic, or manage the Boston Jubilee. Nature made him no statesman, and in his high place, with the tremendous responsibilities, he holds the position of a child in charge of great machinery—in simple ignorance, and with absolute incapacity to learn, he can set in motion powers that will carry ruin, and that he is unable to control. He plays with momentous duties, he trifles with grave public questions, he sports with heavy political problems, he fatuously decides issues of overwhelming influence, with an empty ignorance, with incorrigible incapacity, and with a childish disregard of results, that would be diabolical in purpose as it is in execution, if the man was not a political pigmy, whom accident has put into an office he cannot fill, and yet whose duties he must discharge.

And to add to the difficulties of the situation, this functionary thus holding office he is unfited to fill, is under the admonition of advisers, who don't scruple to mislead, dupe and gull him.

That he means no wrong is evident from his correcting mistakes when he is able to be impressed with the truth. And his rectification of his error in appointing Turner shows this. We try faithfully to strike the exact line of justice to him. Of course we find it difficult to do this, smarting under the wrongs he thus does to our section in the ignorant exercise of his power. We feel, of course, that to do him injustice would be to prevent his correcting any further injury that in his simplicity he may perpetrate upon us.

And there is no telling what he may still do under the baleful influence of the many bad men by whom he is surrounded, and with every avenue to accurate information of our people blocked or befogged.

We heartily congratulate our Macon friends on their good fortune in escaping the infliction of that pestilent Turner.

WARRENTON EMBROGLIO.

Illegal Arrests—Military Outrage—Great Excitement.

The Augusta papers give accounts of the trouble at Warrenton. Chap Norris, the Radical Sheriff, has returned with one hundred and twenty-five soldiers, which, with the garrison there, makes near three hundred. He brought orders from General Terry to be recognized as Sheriff. He began by arresting first, John Raley, the temporary Sheriff, then E. E. Cody, Ed Cody, Zip Cody, H. Martin, and A. L. Hartley, editor of the Clipper—all good citizens. They are in jail, guarded by the soldiers. E. E. Cody was taken while practicing music in a private store, which music Norris took as a demonstration in honor of Raley. Capt. Hartley hearing that Norris was looking for him, reported to the officer, and was put by Norris in confinement with the others.

No legal process was used, no charges made, no reason assigned for the arrests, and no resistance made.

A writ of habeas corpus was served on the Military and on Norris in Raley's case The soldiers were ready, but Norris refused to answer. Another writ was served on him, which he coolly said he "would answer through headquarters."

There is much feeling, but quiet conduct of the people. The soldiers are acting gentlemanly.

Judge Andrews and General Du Bose were expected.

These are the latest particulars. Thus is civil law set aside. Thus are our citizens outraged. The people are acting quietly and we counsel them to continue it, and resort to legal means only. Any outbreak would be grateful to our enemies. Let this thing emanate from where it may, from Governor Bullock or General Terry, it is a bitter wrong. We withhold further comment, however. The conduct of Norris, as reported, is simply infamous. Let us see how far he was instructed, and to what extent he is endorsed. The provocation to resentment in such high-handed indignity and oppression is almost overmastering, but let us meet the thing with the intelligent calculation due to our interest in a right settlement of the crisis.

☞ Senter and Stokes, the Radical candidates for Governor of Tennessee, have opened the campaign in Nashville. Senter has made the heaviest bid for the rebel vote. He is for wholesale enfranchisement.

☞ Col. R. D. Hall, President of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company is dead.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL HOAR.—This evil functionary has in a very elaborate document advised General Rawlings, Secretary of War, that to take a citizen from the civil tribunals in time of peace and try him by military commission is perfectly legal. The decision has grown out of a case in Texas.

We will not give the sophistical reasoning and false logic by which this legal gentleman arrives at his conclusion, nor will we enter upon the many and irresistible arguments to falsify his deductions.

We will simply say this, that while President Grant keeps around him as his advisers, men who furnish partizan politics for law, and who place the wicked phylacteries of Radicalism above the sacred injunctions of the Constitution, he will err from the beginning to the end of his Presidential career.

☞ The Cincinnati Commercial says Gen. John A. Logan owns up to the responsibility of that Arlington outrage upon the Confederate dead. Generous ignominy!

MANAGEMENT OF THE STATE ROAD.

Letter from Hon. Wm. H. Hall—Letter from Col. Hulbert.

GREENVILLE, GA., June 2, 1869.

Editors "Telegraph": The accompanying letter from the Superintendent of the "State Road" you will please publish. It is desired also, that those papers that have published the letters of the Treasurer and myself, should give it publicity.

The letter contains two ideas, and two only, which I desire briefly to notice. 1st. That at the proper time, and in the usual and proper manner, his report of the management of the road will be made, and that it will be satisfactory to all competent and unbiased judges; that is to say, at the next meeting of the Legislature, seven months hence, we shall be made satisfied that this vastly valuable property has been well and judiciously managed. When it is remembered that the net earnings of the road, with more business than it ever had before, are $15,000 a month less than formerly, it may well be questioned whether this promise to be fulfilled at so remote a period will be entirely satisfactory to the people.

I may be an intruder; I may have violated good breeding, or the official rules of etiquette, often as senseless as they are disgusting, in seeking information on a subject of interest to every citizen of Georgia. Certain it is, were I the Superintendent of property that cost the people $7,000,000, and the net income of that property were $15,000 a month less than formerly—the foundation of all the complaint—and I were called upon in a respectful manner by a citizen of the State high or low, official or no official—especially by one who had voted and used all his influence in the House of Representatives against taking the management of the same out of my hands—to explain the reason of the discrepancy, I could not reconcile it either to my convictions of duty to myself or to the people to promise to make a satisfactory explanation seven months hence; but I would do it at once or frankly acknowlege my inability to do it.

2d. As to the second idea, it amounts practically to nothing. He might recommend till doomsday the acceptance of the proposition of General Austell, on certain conditions, and in the absence of a legislative enactment to that effect, the proposition could not be acceded to. General Austell's proposition is now important in one light only, and that is, in his jugdment, he can make the road pay better, and the judgment of such a man has great weight with me.

I make no charge of malversation against any one I know of here. I know of none. I sought only an explanation upon a matter of great and general importance, thinking it would be given with pleasure. Please publish this. I will give you no more trouble. Respectfully,

W. H. F. HALL.

WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD,
SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Atlanta, Ga., May 28, 1869.

Hon. W. H. F. Hall, Greenville, Ga.:

DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 5th instant was received during my necessary and unexpectedly prolonged absence from the city on business of great importance to the Western and Atlantic Railway, and, through this work to the people of Georgia. But for this your communication would have received earlier attention.

At the proper time, and in the usual and proper manner, I shall report, as required by law, upon the management of this great interest; when I expect to be able to show to the satisfaction of all unprejudiced competent judges, that it has been so managed as to promote the interests of the people and, especially, the development of the State's resources.

In regard to the remark of Gen. A. Austell, repeated by Hon. Mr. Augler in his letter to you, I beg leave to say:

If Gen. Austell, or any other gentleman with equally responsible co-contractors, will take the State (W. and A.,) railway, as it is, for ten years, and will give ample and satisfactory security that it will be returned at the expiration of that time in the same condition, and with an equally good working outfit as when received; and will bind themselves to pay in the Treasury of the State, during the ten years, forty thousand ($40,000) dollars per month; and, also, to keep the tariff of freights where it now is, so that the people may have a guaranteed assurance that the cost of the necessaries of life shall not be increased to the consumer by the increased cost of transportation over this line; and, also, to continue the present reduced rate on lime for agricultural purposes, (that agricultural products may be increased,) as well as on coal and iron, that their development on the line of the road may be encouraged and stimulated—I will recommend the acceptance of the proposition, and the speedy closing of the contract.

Yours, Very Respectfully,
E. HULBERT, Supt.

NORTHERN TESTIMONY TO SOUTHERN QUIET.—The Keokuk (Iowa) Constitution thus truthfully talks:

It is a well known fact—a fact which is confirmed almost daily, by the testimony of Radicals themselves—that the personal safety of no decent man, be he Northern or Southern, is in any more peril in Georgia than in Massachusetts or any other Northern State.

Mr. Bullock ought to read the letter written by Mr. Medill of the Chicago Tribune, on that subject, while on his recent trip through the Southern States. Mr. Medill frankly says that the Southern people, and the people of Georgia among the rest, quietly tolerate men and things, that no Northern community would tolerate. His description of the genus carpet-bagger is about as cutting as anything we ever saw.

☞ Mr. Greeley does not like Miss Dickinson's assertion that the devil has, or will have, all the politicians. He admits that he is a politician, but objects to Miss Dickinson's decision.

The truth-loving philosopher of the Tribune need not be uneasy. There is more danger of Greeley getting the devil than there is of the devil getting Greeley.—Savannah News.

☞ The following gives the ages of the leading actresses in this country:

Laura Keene is 56, but looks and acts like a girl of 20; Mrs. John Drew is over 60, but is sensible; Mrs. Bowers is 45; Maggie Mitchell is 41, and a blushing bride; Charlotte Thompson is 34; Effie Germon is 40; Kate Reignolds is 43; Lotta is 26; Olive Logan is 37; Charlotte Cushman is nearly 70, and a maiden; Mrs. Davenport is 50; Lydia Thompson will never see 30 again; and Miss Marriott has arrived at "years of discretion."

The President has received the Peruvian Minister. Nothing significant in the speeches.

The Herald says; "The Attorney General is said to have hesitated a long time before he furnished his recent opinion sustaining a Texas Court Martial in the trial of a citizen for the murder of a freedman, and that his actual view of the law at first suggested an entirely opposite decision, but that General Butler said that he would offer a resolution on the subject in the next session if he (Hoar) did not make an example of these fellows, and under this pressure the recent opinion was made."

Information from a reliable source in Havana, has been received here, asserting that the Cubans were engaged in active and offensive movements, and were never in better spirits or more sanguine of success. Telegrams from Havana deny the report that any number of Cubans or any officer of Cuban forces, surrendered to Volneasada.

The excitement in the Cuban circles in New York on Sunday night, originated by a report telegraphed by the Spaniards that Cespedes had surrendered. Subsequent despatches from Cuban sources, prove the report entirely unfounded.

THE GREAT SPOONS.—Some artistical genius, without the fear of Lowell, or Benjamin, the son of a pirate, before his eyes, has designed, outlined, delineated, and perpetrated a spirit-picture of the Hon. Benj. F. Butler, delegate from Massachusetts, representing the aforesaid cock-eyed patriot, seated by a table with a dim, shadowy, visionary outline of the Devil in the back ground, hovering over him with a couple of spoons in his left clutch, waving the same in tranquil agony over the head of the immortal Brute. In this spirit-picture there is joy and agony manifested. Benjamin seems in agony that he cannot reach the spoons above his head, while the Devil seems filled with joy to think he has elevated them out of the reach of the renowned spoons.—New York Democrat.

PROCLAMATION.

GEORGIA.

By Rufus B. Bullock, Governor of said State.

WHEREAS, Official information has been received at this Department that a murder was committed in the county of Harris, on the 3d day of April, 1869, upon the body of Daniel R. Potter, by Thomas J. Daniel, as is alleged, and that said Daniel has fled from justice:

I have thought proper, therefore, to issue this my proclamation, hereby offering a reward of FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS for the apprehension and delivery of the said Daniel, with proof sufficient to convict, to the Sheriff of said county and State.

And I do moreover charge and require all officers in this State, civil and military, to be vigilant in endeavoring to apprehend the said Daniel, in order that he may be brought to trial for the offence with which he stands charged.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at the Capitol in Atlanta, this 5th day of June, in the year of our Lord 1869, and of the independence of the United States of America the Ninety-third.

DR.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR Medicine for Dyspepsia, Headache Jaundice, Costiveness, Camp Dysentery, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhoea, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fever, Nervousness, bills, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood Melancholy or Depression of Spirits

Most of the ailments here enumerated have their origin in a diseased liver, which is the most prevalent affection in this country, and as in many cases the patient is not within the reach of a physician, it requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be active and safe. That such is the character of the SIMMONS REGULATOR there can be no doubt, which the testimony of hundreds will establish.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED

LIVER.

Pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade is mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease but cases have occurred when few of them existed yet examination of the body after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the foregoing symptoms appear. It is a purely vegetable compound is not injurious to the most delicate constitutions, and will keep the liver in healthy action if used properly.

Persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all billious attacks by taking a dose occasionally to keep the liver in healthy action.

Regulator

For children complaining of colic, headache, or sick stomach a teaspoonful or more will give relief Children, as well as adults, eat sometimes too much supper or eat something which does not digest well, producing sour stomach, heart-burn, or restlessness; a good dose will give relief. This applies to persons of all ages.

Many persons, from eating too much, are restless at night, or in day time fidgety, wool-gathering, can't understand what they read, can't keep their thoughts on any one subject so as to reason well, or become fretful. One or two tablespoonful will give relief.

Jaundice.—Take enough Regulator after eating each meal to produce one full action from the bowels every day.

Pregnant ladies will find sure relief from their headache, costiveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach restlessness, etc., etc.

Supreme Court—Evening Session.

REPORTED EXPRESSLY FOR THE CONSTITUTION.

WEDNESDAY, June 9, 1869.

Argument was concluded in The State of Georgia ex relatione Jas. J. Waring vs. the Georgia Medical Society.

Hartridge & Chisolm for plaintiff in error.

Thos. E. Loyd, Jackson Lawton and Bassinger for defendant in error.

2.—Richard W. White, plaintiff in error, vs. The State of Georgia, ex relatione Wm. J. Clements was called. A. W. Stone and Jas. F. Johnson representing plaintiff in error, Thos. E. Loyd and Julian Hartridge representing defendant in error.

Col. Akerman stated that he was employed by persons interested, to assist in arguing this cause for plaintiff in error, and had the consent of said plaintiff in error and his counsel so to do, and requested the Court to relax the rule and allow three arguments made. Under the circumstances the Court consented to hear him, upon condition that he occupy not over two hours, and that any third attorney wishing it, should have an equal time to make an argument on the other side. The case is brought up to test whether a negro can hold office in this State.

A. W. Stone opened the cause for plaintiff in error. Pending his opening, the Court adjourned till to-morrow at 10 o'clock, A. M.

JONESBORO, GA., June 9, 1869.

Editor Constitution: Your correspondent "Earnest" says, in his, this morning's letter, "he (Prof. Waddell,) has introduced the practice of written examinations into the Southern Colleges," etc. Prof. Waddell is an accomplished scholar and a worthy son of an illustrious sire, but the honor of introducieg written examinations into the Southern Colleges, is due to the Faculty of Mercer University. The writer, in common with all the other students in that institution, was subjected to most rigid written examinations as far back as 1858, at which time no other College in Georgia, and but two others in the entire South, had introduced the system. "Render under Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's." JUSTICE.

A FINE WHEAT CROP.—Yesterday, in company with Dr. Avery, Col. T. C. Howard, and S. A. Echols, Esq., we visited the from of R. M. Herndon, Esq., one mile from Decatur, to witness the operation of Walter A Wood's Reaper. The wheat was fully ripe for cutting, about three feet high, well meshed, and of the variety known as as the little amber. The stalk is purple. There is about thirty acres of the little amber. The Reaper worked by skilled labor is a decided success. Wood's Reaper cuts the grain rapidly, smoothly and cleanly, and will average fifteen acres per day. In some places the ground was marred by washes, yet it did not incommode the action of the Reaper.

Mr. Herndon has twenty acres in the big white wheat, from three feet and a half to four feet high, not yet ready for cutting. The ground is an old field, exhausted and turned out many years ago. In fact it is the oldest piece of cultivated land in DeKalb county. In the fall of 1867, Mr. Herndon broke the ground up (then in sedge) with an Eddy plow and four oxen, to the depth of twelve inches. After thoroughly pulverizing the soil, he planted corn in 1868, and made a fine crop. In the fall of 1868, he again pulverized the soil and sewed his wheat in drills about six inches apart. At the same time he applied in the drill about one hundred and twenty-five pounds of Peruvian guano per acre. The wheat grew generally very rank and headed out well.

The wheat was not soaked, consequently there is a slight sprinkling of smut heads in it, but no rust. It matured earlier than the rest of his neighbors, and Mr. H. thinks the true mode of preventing Rust is to use fertilizers and cause it to mature earlier. The yield will be an average of eighteen bushels per acre, on land that would not yield if treated on the old style more than two or two and a half bushels per acre. Mr. Herndon is a plain and practical farmer. He has been the pioneer in demonstrating that deep ploughing and thorough pulverization of the soil, and the use of improved agricultural implements will pay. His land, (formerly thrown away as worn out) is rapidly augmenting in fertility, and in the course of a few years under his skilful management will produce at least fifty bushels of wheat to the acre. We can see no reason why all our old fields can not be made to produce as much.

THE GREEN EYED MONSTER AMONG THE CHILDREN OF HAM.—In one of the Grocery establishments on Whitehall street a venerable son of Ham called for short uncle Ned is employed as a porter. His wife is fat, fussy and under forty and is disposed to be a little jealous. Not long since one of the partners who had been absent asked his brother partner "well Lisha how's trade" "Well, Marion, I sold uncle Ned a fine ham last night." Not dreaming that it was another Ned, Marion asked Ned the Porter's daughter who came in soon after, "how she liked the fine ham her father carried home last night"; without replying she fled homewards and told her mother who became indignant. "If dat is de way Ned spend he money for ham for other wenches he got to leave here sure." So she bundled up his cloths and tossed them out of doors. When Ned came home he heard it thunder and left to avoid the storm. After staying away about two months he succeeded in pacifying his irate spouse by inducing Lisha to explain the matter to her. Every now and then she comes after a ham herself, not wishing to subject him to temptation.

ATLANTA.—An eminent divine who was in the city yesterday, remarked to a friend of ours that it was a remarkable fact that, notwithstanding the aspersions cast on Atlanta, she continued to grow with unexampled rapidity. It was said that her merchants were broke and operating on borrowed money, upon which they paid fifty per cent—yet he noticed these merchants building fine stores, and largely increasing their stock of goods. He was satisfied that these reports were unfounded, and originated in envy of her prosperity. He thought Atlanta had a glorious future before her.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—Messrs. Wallace & Fowler sold yesterday, at private sale, a lot on Mangum street, to Mrs. E. Bosworth, for $100 cash; a quarter of an acre on Decatur street, near the old rolling mill, to Joel C. Armstead, for $400 and commissions; two lots on Means srteet, 50 by 100 feet each, for $125 each, to Mastin P. Camp; an acre lot on Taylor's Hill, for $800 and commissions, to Elleby & Co.; and three acres at the junction of Marietta street and Turner's ferry road, to Simpkins & Co., for $1,680 cash.

FULTON LOAN AND BUILDING ASSOCIATION.—At a meeting of the Association last night, the following officers were unanimously elected for the ensuing year: J. R. Wallace, President; J. A. Hayden, A. J. Orme, J. H. Purtell, F. M. Eddleman, Directors; Noah R. Fowler, Treasurer; Daniel Pittman, Secretary.

STRAWBERRIES.—The season for strawberries will soon be over. Those found of them would do well to call on Thompson at his Caife and obtain a plate ere they are gone. His ice cream is delicious cool and inviting.

PASSENGER DEPOT.—When will this much needed structure be commenced? The traveling public are complaining at the condition of the building now used for that purpose. We trust that the railroad companies will move promptly and early in the matter.

SMALL GRAIN IS FEMININE. Judging from the termination of the names of the implements used in gathering and preparing it ready for use. Reap(h)er, mow(h)er, thresher. Lastly, the mill(h)er, converts her into flow-her!

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY!

ASSETS, $12,000,000.

IS STRICTLY A MUTUAL COMPANY.

Its policies are non-forfeiting after the second annual payment.

Its profits are divided among its policy-holders, there being no stockholders in the Company.

Its reserve fund is $8,473,594 68.

Its income from interest, $768,144 13.

Its disbursements for losses, $741,043 23.

It is therefore safe to hold its policies.

Its divisible surplus is $1,869,383 17.

It affords therefore a good investment for your funds.

The following is a list of Policies, lapsed by reason of non-payment during the war, which have been re-instated and placed in the same position as if they had never lapsed, or otherwise satisfactorily adjusted, at the option of the policy holder. We deem this the best evidence of the willingness of the Company to settle all just and reasonable claims for lapsed policies liberally:

RAMIE,

The Substitute for Cotton, new Textile Plant for Southern Cultivation.

THIS new substitute for Cotton has been demonstrated to be peculiarly adapted to our climate, and to grow not only in our alluvial soil, but also on the uplands of adjoining States.

That is not subject to be destroyed by the Caterpillar and other enemies of Cotton.

That four crops a year may be cut and sent to the market, and each crop of more pounds to the acre than an ordinary yield of Cotton.

That its fibre is stronger and finer than flax or Cotton; and that it is worth more than double in Europe the Best Sea Island Cotton and four times as much as upland Cotton.

That it requires but little labor, and when once planted, will ratoon and propagate itself without further labor for a great many years—in fact almost indefinitely.

The subscriber has plants for exhibition, the result of his personal labor, ACCLIMATED, and roots fresh from the ground, which are sure to live if properly planted.

On all orders for one hundred plants and upward, the express charges will be paid to, and the plants delivered in Atlanta at New Orleans prices. Plants can be sent per express, C. O. D.

Better Value for the Money than can be obtained elsewhere in the city.

The "Tilton style" Buggy, for workmanship and material has NO EQUAL, except the "Abbot" buggy. My Repository, one of the largest in the city, possesses the advantage in its location of costing less than half the rent of those up town, I can therefore offer my vehicles at less price.

Those who have had my work require no reference; but to those unacquainted I would respectfully refer to:

Messrs. J. H. Brower & Co., Smallwood, Hodgkiss & Co., and Betts, Nichols & Co., New York.

For my new style of slide seat Buggy I refer to Messrs Jno. M. Clarke & Son, attorneys at law, Atlanta, Ga., who have recently purchased one.

HOW TO UTILIZE THE OAK FORESTS

—OF THE—

SOUTHERN STATES.

THE Undersigned is now ready to grant Licenses or to sell Factory or Territorial rights for the use of his Improved Appliances for the Manufacture of Imperishable Concentrated Extract from Oak Bark, for Tanning and Coloring purposes, requiring them for either a small royalty or a reasonable consideration for excelsior rights.

A Factory complete in all its appointments, capable of manufacturing 30 barrels of Extract every 24 hours—will cost Eight Thousand Dollars, not including cost of motive power, which may be of Steam or Water, and of 25 Horse Power.

A Factory of half the capacity, or 15 bbls per 24 hours, will cost Five Thousand Dollars. While a Factory capable of producing from 13 to 15 bbls per day—will cost, not to exceed Three Thousand Dollars.

The above estimates include the cost of Building, Tanks—which are of wood—Mill, Conducting Appliances, and everything complete [illegible]

DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,

Manufacturer and Vendor of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup,

FOR THE CURE OF

AGUE AND FEVER,

—OR—

Chills and Fever.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southwestern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMIEY PILLS will be sufficient.

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER:

VILLANOW, Walker Co., Ga., June 29, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D.'s, but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully.
JULIUS P. CLEMENT M. D

Bull's Sarsaparilla

A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

READ THE CAPTAIN'S LETTER AND THE LETTER FROM HIS MOTHER.

BENTON BARRACK'S, Mo., April 30 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not set up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish that that is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige.
Capt. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1866, by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Captain Johnson:

DR. BULL—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died leaving the above C P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhœa and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. IT CURED HIM. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever scores and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible, but I believe he will recover.
Respectfully, JENNIE JOHNSON.

BULL'S CEDRON BITTERS

AUTHENTIC DOCUMENTS.

ARKANSAS HEARD FROM.

Testimony of Medical Men

STONEY POINT, White Co., Ark., May 23, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters.

My son-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and soon found his general health improved.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and he also improved.

Dr. Coffee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed, the Cedron Bitters has given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicines this fall, especially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, care Rickett & Neely.
Respectfully, C. B. WALKER.

Many errors occur by persons not observing the following regulations in depositing letters, papers or miscellaneous publications in the office for mailing:

All Drop Letters must be prepaid by Postage Stamps.

Pre-payment, by Stamps, required on all transient printed letters to places within the United States.

Full pre-payment, by Stamps, required on all transient matter, foreign or domestic.

Newspapers, periodicals and circulars, put into the office for city delivery, either through boxes or by carriers, are chargeable as follows: Circulars one cent each; newspapers and periodicals one cent each—if not exceeding four ounces in weight. These rates apply to daily and weekly publications alike.

By inserting the county in which the office is located upon all letters, many errors in superscription may be detected, and mistakes in mailing be avoided.

1. Direct your letters plainly to the street or number, as well as the Post Office and State.

2 Head letters with the name of the writer's Post Office and State, street and number. Sign them with full name, and request that answers be directed accordingly.

3. Letters sent to strangers or transient visitors, in a town or city, whose special address may be unknown, should be marked on the lower left-hand corner with the word "Transient."

4. Place the Postage Stamp on the upper, right-hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and direction, for postmarking without interfering with the writing.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within 30 days or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, Postoffice and State across the left-hand side of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with. Letters bearing such endorsements will be returned to the writer free of postage.

The following classes of letters are not advertised:

Drop letters—unless a three-cent postage stamp is affixed.

Letters bearing requests to be returned to writers, if unclaimed.

Box letters.

Letters directed and sent to hotels, and then returned to the postoffice as unclaimed—being for strangers.

Letters returned from the Dead letter office to writers.

Circulars, free packets, containing printed documents, speeches and other printed matter.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure, at this office, Stamped Envelopes, with printed return request, (see samples at the stamp window), as the expense is less, and letters thus enclosed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer, free of charge

Absolute safety in sending money by mail is secured by obtaining a money order at the Post Office. The fees are—for $20, or less, ten cents; from $20 to $30, fifteen cents; from $30 to $40, twenty cents, and from $40 to $50 twenty-five cents.

Never put money in a letter—always procure a "Money Order," or Register the letter.

The public are requested to report any inattention on the part of the employees of the office, of failure in the receipt or delivery of mail matter, to the Postmaster or Chief Clerk.

A RUNAWAY.—This morning, as two ladies from the country were coming into the city in a one-horse wagon, the horse became frightened near the city limits and dashed off at break-neck speed. One of the ladies jumped out, but the other remained and tried to check the speed of the horse. Failing to effect her object, she concluded to jump out, but unfortunately her right foot became entangled in the wheel, and was broken just above the ankle and terribly mangled. The broken bone projected out several inches. The horse continued to run, inflicting excrutiating pain on the unfortunate lady, until stopped by Mr. Born, who rendered timely assistance to the suffering woman. He summoned Drs. Thompson and Orme to the spot, who dressed the wound.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING.—At a meeting of the bar of Americus a resolution was adopted requesting the legal fraternity throughout the State to send delegates to a Convention to be held in Atlanta, on the 13th of July next to take such action as the interests of the profession demand at this hour.

Col. W. A. Hawkins, Col. C. T. Goode and W. B. Guerry, Esq., were appointed to represent the Americus bar in the Convention.

We feel confident that the Atlanta bar will welcome them here and see that they are properly cared for.

WHEAT.—In Baltimore on the 7th, wheat was heavy at $1.30 to $2 for white fair and choice; choice red $1.80; Western amber $1.47; Maryland fair $1.30 to $1.35 In Louisville, Ky., red and white, on arrival, was dull sale at $1.10 to $1.20. In Nashville on the 8th, red wheat was quoted at $1.26 and white at $1.30.

PRETTY GOOD ON WADE.—A telegraphic dispatch, from Washington, relating to Ben Wade, appears in a Western Radical paper, as follows:

"Mr. Wade, who has been here for two days to look after certain Ohio appointments, returned home to-night. The statement that he came here to accept the directorship of the Union Pacific Railroad is untrue, as he accepted the appointment more than a week ago, and attended the recent meeting of the Board of Directors in Boston."

This reminds us of the indignant widow, who, three months after her bereavement, said: "The report that I married Deacon Jones, last Saturday, is a vile falsehood. I married him when I came home from the funeral."—N. O. Times.

☞ Josh Billings has joined the woman's rights movement. He says: "Yu kant git a rooster to pay enny attenshun to a young chicken. They spend their time in crowing, strutting, and occasionally find a [illegible] which they make a remarkable fuss over, calling up their wives from a distance apparently to treat them, but just as the hens git there, the cuss bends over and gobbles up the morsel, for all the world just like a MAN."
